SLAV TROOPS TO CRUSH COUNTER REVOLUTION

Kerensky Expresses Confidence In Army's Ability and Loyalty

GEN. KORNILOFF ATTENDS CONFERENCE AT MOSCOW

Premier Promises the Iron Han For Any Attempt to Restore Monarchy

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—President Wilson sent to the members of the national council assembly at Mosocw today assurances that this government is willing to extend "every material and moral assistance" to the government of Russia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Moscow, Aug. 26.—Premier Kerensky, who came to Moscow yesterday to attend the national conference which is now being held for consideration of the military and political problems which confront the country reviewed troops at the Hippodrome today and in addressing them said he was convinced by the valor they were showing that they would be able to drive back the enemy at the front and crush any atempt at a counter revolution.

General Korniloff, the commander in chief arrived from Petrograd today and was greeted by great crowds. In an address he said it was a source of satisfaction to be able to tell the army that Moscow was the watchword for the welfare of the country and war to a victorious end.

The day was devoted to conferences of the different groups of delegates.

The discussions dealt principally with the government's statements the reply to be made and the attitude to be taken at the coming general meeting. The Maximalists reached the conclusion that the conference does not represent the will of the nation and is of an anti-revolutionary characted. They decided to demand from the assembly a dictatorship of the proletarist, by the handing over of all power to the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates and voted to leave the hall if the majority should be unwilling to share their viewpoint.

The internationalists insisted on abolition of the death penalty and renunciation by the government of its purpose to put down by force the separatists movements in Finland and Ukraine. The popular socialists urged maintenance of the death penalty. At the meeting of consitutional democrats Professor Paul Milukoff said no solution would be reached except in line with the national program and that if Premier Kerensky did not put into execution the measures foreshadowed the ruin of the country would be inevitable.

Russia is passing through a period of mortal danger, Premier Kerensky told the national conference which assembled to consider the present situation of the country and plans for a new national government. He declare that any attempt to take advantage of the conference for an attack on the national power, as embodied in the provisional government, would be represented pitilessly "by blood and iron."

The conference was opened at 3 o'clock with the premier's speech. Representatives of important political, economic, commercial and scientific organizations and persons prominent in public life are in attendance.

U. S. NAVAL FLYER KILLED IN FRANCE; DEATH ACCIDENTAL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—The first death of an American naval flier at the French front was announced here today in official dispatches to the navy department. He was George Herbert Manley, a machinist's mate in the naval aeronautical corps, and was killed in an airplane accident, the nature of which was not described. Manley was a son of Herbert Manley of Maplewood, N. J.

PHARMACISTS HOLD MEETING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 27.—Practically every state in the union was represented when the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the American Pharmaceutical association opened here today. The sessions today were devoted to meetings of the national association of boards of pharmacy and of the American conference of pharmaceutical faculties with the first general meeting on the program for tomorrow night.

HARVARD HAS 5,400 IN WAR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 27.—A catalogue compiled by the Harvard Alumni Bulletin shows that about 5,400 Harvard graduates and undergraduates are now engaged in some sort of war work. Nearly every page in the catalogue bears the asterisk that designates death in action.

WINS HEARTS AND PURSES WITH HIS WARM LOVE NOTES

John F. Beckwith.

John F. Beckwith, poet, novelist, soldier, doctor of philosophy, master lover, champion letter writer and inventor of the only "follow-up" love letter system extant, is in jail in Cleveland charged by federal authorities with having used the mails to defraud. He admits that he wrote love letters to scores of women for the sole purpose of getting their money. But he says he didn't get a great deal, at that.

U. S. REPLY TO POPE MADE THIS WEEK

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—A reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposal may be made by the government this week. Secretary Lansing said today it would be made soon but declined to indicate its character or time of dispatch.

Reports from the entente powers today indicated that they might be waiting for the United States to make the first reply.

NO EXEMPTONS FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Aug. 27.—Policemen and firemen eligible to draft will not be excused from military service, according to a communication received today from Provost Marshal General Crowder by Police Commissioner Woods. Recently Governor Whitman, at the request of Commissioner Woods, wrote the secretary of war, requesting that in cities where the population is 2,000,000 and upwards, firemen and police should be exempted from military service.

The provost marshal general says in his letter he took the matter up with Secretary Baker and the conclusion reached was that it would be unfair to the smaller cities to exempt firemen and police in the bigger ones.

If firemen and policemen were exempted, the provost marshal general added, medical students and others probably would make claims for exemption on the ground that they are saviours of life and limb.

2600 MEN REPORT AT FORT BENJAMIN HARRISON

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 27.—The second officers' reserve training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison was opened today when 2600 men arrived from points in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana to begin active training.

Practically all of the day was devoted to assigning the men to the various cantonments. Inspection will be held Tuesday. The men will be divided among 15 companies of infantry, five companies of field artilleary and two companies of coast artillery.

Washington, Aug. 27.—With men from New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia and Virginia, the second camp for training officers at Fort Myer, Va., across the Potomac river from the capital began its three months intensive work today.

LECTURES TELL TOMMIES OF AMERICA'S WAR IDEALS

London, Aug. 27.—The Manchester Guardian says the government has been making the troops in France fully acquainted with the American attitude in the war. Dr. Kellman, a well known clergyman, who recently has been in the United States has been touring the British front and lecturing to the troops at various centers on America's ideals, aspirations and endeavors.

An officer who was present testified that the lectures have been a great success.

PARLIAMENTARY REFORMS CERTAIN TO BE SECURED

New Council Formed By Michaelis to Discuss Reply to Pope's Note

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Sunday, Aug. 26, via London, Aug. 27.—If frank discussion and unblushing criticism are capable of bringing on parliamentary reforms, it may be said that Saturday's proceedings in the reichstag main committee have given increased momentum to the movement. To this must be added the volume of plain spoken editorial comment by the liberal press, which states frankly that it will not be satisfied with half measures or substitute make shifts.

The discussion of national politics was continued by the committee yesterday. Chancellor Michaelis twice took the floor for the purpose of explaining his newly created council, made up of seven reichstag deputies and seven members of the bundesrath over which he is to preside. The new council will hold its first meeting Tuesday for the purpose of discussing the government's reply to the papal peace note. The social democrats, centrists, national liberals and progressives have agreed to co-operate with the government on this issue. The various factions, however, have informed the chancellor they have accepted the newly organized body as a provisienary device and consider it the harbinger of more substantial permanent measures which will secure to the reichstag constitutional prerogatives and greater responsibilities.

Among other demands the coalition will urge nullification of paragraph nine of the imperial constitution which prohibits reichstag deputies fro mbecoming members of the federal council. Elimination of this restriction would facilitate appointment of members of parliament to secretaryships which carry with them membership in the bundesrat.

Detailed reports of yesterday's session of the main committee, at which the various factions apparently strove to outdo each other in the candor of their criticism, indicate that the chancellor was an attentive auditor and showed no inclination to oppose some of the more emphatic demands. In a statement supplementing his speech in the forenoon he said he would consent to consider the seven reichstag deputies from becoming members of sentatives of their political factions. The session afforded the party representatives ample opportunity to bring up their grievances; Among them was the statement of Mathias Erzberger, leader of the centrists, that his party had not received proper recognition in the distribution of government honors.

The session gave the impression that advocates of parliamentary reforms are inclined to support the chancellor in his opinion that reorganization cannot be undertaken hastily. It is plain at this date, however, that the coalition, which has been augmented immeasurably by the adhesion of the national liberals now constitutes an invincible reichstag majority with which the chancellor must reckon, which will enter the new session next

WASHINGTON HAS NO COMMENT ON KERENSKY SPEECH

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—No official comment was made by government officials on Premier Kerensky's speech before the members of the council yesterday but it was made clear that the sentiments expressed by the Russian leader were heartily approved here and that his declarations indicating the firm way in which he and his counsellors are prepared to deal with enemies of the new government had aroused a greater confidence in the outcome of their plans. A message of congratulation cabled by President Wilson follows:

"I take the liberty to send to the members of the great council now meeting in Moscow the cordial greetings of their friends, the people of the United States; to express their confidence in the ultimate triumph of ideals of democracy and self-government against all enemies within and without, and to give their renewed assurance of every material and moral assistance they can extend to the government of Russia in the promotion of the common cause in which the two nations are unselfishly united.

(Signed) "Woodrow Wilson."

Last farewells as train laden with national guardsmen leaves for the training camp.

This scene is typical of what is going on all over the United States today, as national guardsmen leave for their training camps. There are very few wives to say good-bye as the vast majority of the men are single, but no soldier-laden train ever pulls out of a city without leaving behind its quota of sweethearts.

90 YEAR OLD VETS ATTEND REUNION OF FOREIGN SOLDIERS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Aug. 27.—With two veterans of the Mexican war, both over 90 years old present, the eighteenth annual encampment of the veterans of foreign wars opened here today. The veterans of whom 2000 will attend the convention, have not given up hope of fighting for the United States simply because they are old, according to Albert J. Rabin of New York, commander-in-chief of the society. Mr. Rabin said 15 per cent of the members of the organization had already enlisted for the present, while 18 members of the post at Fort Sam Houston are already in France with the colors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—Secretary Daniels expects to submit to congress this week estimates of $350,000,000 for the great number of destroyers which will make the American navy the leader of the world in ships of that type.

The money will be used to expand existing shipbuilding plants and also to build additional engine and boiler factories as the destroyer program upon which the ship building industry is now engaged represents the full capacity of the industry.

Navy designers are preparing plans for a standardized destroyer to facilitate the quantity production of the most successful weapon against submarines. Parts of the engines will be assembled from various factories at central plants and forwarded to shipyards building the hulls.

Details of the number of destroyers now under construction or the number contemplated in the supplemental program are withheld for military reasons. New destroyers will be delivered so rapidly beginning early next year that the supply of trained officers and men will be taxed in putting them into commission. Means for training new crews will have to be expanded proportionately.

The $350,000,000 estimate, it was indicated today, is a minimum and may have to be increased substantially.

MISSIONARIES REPORT CHILDREN IN DISTRESS

New York, Aug. 27.—More than 50 children under 12 years of age, all dependent on outside relief for necessities of life, are in Lebanon and an additional 25,000 orphans are in Syria, no including Palestine, according to reports of missionaries from the far east who recently arrived here. It was asserted by the missionaries that it was extremely doubtful whether many of these children could survive the coming winter, if relief does not reach them in a more substantial form than heretofore.

CANADIANS HOLD LENS POSITIONS TAKE MANY GUNS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Canadian Army Headquarters, Aug. 27.—During the past few days the Canadians in front of Lens have had a period of comparative quiet and have been able to consolidate positions recently captured with little retaliation from the enemy and with surprisingly little loss.

Posts have been pushed out at favorable points and where trenches could be connected up to shorten the front this has been done. The general result is that the Canadians hold a compact line which, on that part of the front west of Lens, is about 600 yards from the burned out area in the city. The enemy occupies the area between this line and his main defensive position on the eastern side of the burned out section by means of strong outposts located in concrete cellars. The chief incidents occurring now are in connection with encounters between patrols.

During the clearing up operations the Canadians have destroyed three more machine guns and captured five, making the total of machine guns taken since August 15, forty-three. Twenty-one trench mortars also are among the spoils of war.

CATHOLICS PLEDGE LOYAL SUPPORT TO AMERICA IN WAR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Kansas City, Aug. 27.—Catholics of America will support the cause of their country "with undeviating loyalty," throughout the war with the central empires. That pledge was given here today by John Whalen, of New York, in his annual address as president before the opening session of the convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies.

"All sacrifices demanded of us should be met cheerfully," Mr. Whalen declared. "Whether the struggle be long or short, we pledge the undeviating loyalty to our country of 3,000,000 Catholic men and women united in federation."

Catholics, he estimated, would prove to be 35 per cent. of the American fighting forces. Active work already is under way to provide for their spiritual and physical needs.

"Much as we deplore war, we want no peace with dishonor or with future danger to the starry banner or to the world at large," he said.

Anthony Matre of Chicago, the national secretary, reported that the federation now had a membership of 3,000,000. A crusade of large proportions has been taken up against immorality, and plans he reported were under way for the formation of a Catholic Young Men's Christian association.

CHURCH IS DESTROYED.

Anchorville, Mich., Aug. 27.—St. Marys Catholic church, the rectory and adjoining buildings were destroyed by fire which started late yesterday. For a time the town was threatened. The cause has not been ascertained. The loss was about $100,000.

SIX MILLION SHIRTS FOR UNCLE SAM'S BIG FAMILY OF YOUTHS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Aug. 27.—Shirt-makers of New York and vicinity will begin work soon upon one of the largest orders ever given in the history of the country. The order which calls for 500,000 dozen shirts for the men of the navy and army, means the employment of 10,000 persons from now until December 1, when it must be completed, according to an announcement by Solomon Cutler, organizer of the shirt-makers union. It was also said that the shirt-makers will be paid from $5 to $6 a week more on this contract than is usual for military work.

TWELVE UNITS OF OHIO TROOPS NOW AT MONTGOMERY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 27.—Company I, Eighth Ohio Infantry, arrived late last night and detrained this morning.

A thousand men, members of the Ohio engineer regiment, who arrived here Saturday night, this morning got down in earnest to the business of turning this big cotton and peanut plantation into a model military camp.

The engineers detrained yesterday morning and after a mess served from the kitchen cars of the troop train which brought them, marched to the camp site and pitched camp.

The soldiers are anxiously waiting for a chance to explore Montgomery, five miles from Camp Sheridan.

Twelve Ohio units are represented here now. The units already here and under canvas are:

Company F, First Infantry; Companies G and H, Sixth Infantry; Companies A, C and I, Eighth Infantry; Company C, Tenth Infantry; Company C, Fifth Infantry; Battery D, First Field Artillery; Ambulance Company No. 2, Motor Supply company, Columbus, and the engineer regiment, with the exception of two companies.

Brigadier General W. V. McMahon of Toledo, senior brigadier of the state, is in command of the camp until the arrival of Major General Treat, U. S. A., commander of the Ohio division.

Brigadier Generals C. X. Zimmerman, Cleveland, and J. C. Speaks, Columbus, are on the ground, planning camp sites for their regiments.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Rome, Aug. 27.—(British Admiralty Per Wireless Press)—A desperate battle is in progress on the Bainsizza plateau, on the front north of Gorizia, it is announced officially. The resistence of the Austrians have been overcome at various points.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Aug. 27.—It was reported from Austrian headquarters today that the Austrian troops who were fighting to the north of Gorizia, on the Isonzo front, have now retired, says the Central News dispatch from Amsterdam.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Aug. 27.—General Petain is holding all his gains of the great Verdun offensive movement in the face of formidable counter-attacks which the crown prince is now launching.

The French commander reports the repulse last night of strong assaults on newly won positions in this sector. He announces also the capture of 1100 prisoners in the fighting yesterday, when the French lines were carried forward two-thirds of a mile of a two and a half mile front, to the outskirts of Beaumont village.

Possibly as a diversion, the Germans have resumed their attacks in Aisne region, where for many days in July and early August they met with repeated checks in desperate attempts to drive the French from the valuable ground on the Chemin des Dames won in the spring offensive. The renewal of the attempt met with no better success, the breaking up the crown prince's thrusts being announced today by the Paris war office.

The British are continuing their systematic smashing of aviation and other bases behind the German front in Belgium. The dropping of a large number of bombs by naval airmen on the airdrome of St. Denis Westren is announced today. In infantry operations the only activity reported is a successful trench raid carried out this morning near Oosttaverne.

Crashing ahead, in spite of powerful Austrian resistance and in the face of strong counter attacks, the Italian troops on the Isonzo front and on the Caros today captured a vast area and increased the number of prisoners to 600 officers and 23,000 men.

A great amount of booty also has fallen into the hands of General Cadorna's forces.

The official war report, sent from Rome last night says:

"The battle is beginning to reveal itself in its vastness. The action north of Gorizia, from August 19 onward, may be epitomized as follows:

"The gallant troops of the second army, after having thrown 14 bridges across the Isonzo under the fire of the enemy, passed over the river on the night of August 18-19 and proceeded to attack the Bainsizza plateau.

"Directing themselves decisively toward the Jelenik-Vrh front, they went around the three enemy defensive lines of Sommer, Kobelik and Madoni, which crossed there. Con-

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Butte, Mont., Aug. 27.—Thousands of miners are idle today because of the shut down of all the copper mines of the district, made necessary by the closing Friday of the Washoe Smelting plant of the Anaconda Copper Mining company a Anaconda when 3,000 employed on the day shift, only 110 reported for work.

Indications are that the independent mines of the district which did not shut down Friday will be compelled to cease operations in the near future. Miners gradually are failing to report for work at the independent properties.

The machinists union has formulated new demands which members say they will insist upon.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 27.—Houston went about its normal way again today following the action of Mayor General George Bell, Jr., last night in removing the city from martial law.

Saloons were re-opened and business houses selling ammunition again were permitted to make sales. Patrols were taken from the streets and armed guards were no longer stationed on street cars.

temporaneously they attacked the same lines from the front, and broke through in spite of the enemy's most stubborn defense. The consequence of this bold maneuver was the capture of Monte Santo.

"Our troops now are continuing their advance toward the eastern border of Bainsizza Plateau, hotly pursuing the enemy, who is making the most violent resistance with large parties of machine gunners and with light artillery.

"On the Carso yesterday the battle came to a standstill temporarily. Our small advance rectified the captured positions, which were consolidated, and the enemy's attempted counter attack failed under our fire.

"The prisoners thus far number 600 officers and 23,000 men. We have captured 75 guns, including two 305 millimetre mortars and many guns of medium calibre, a great number of horses, an airplane in perfect condition, many trench mortars and machine guns and all kinds of war material, including several motor tractors loaded with ammunition

"The enormous difficulty of sending supplies to our troops across a zone in which there are no roads has been surmounted in part because of the large supply depots abandoned by the enemy during his retirement "

Numerous messages from the front received by Ministers in Rome, indicate that the Italians are making swift strides toward victory. When asked today for an expression of his opinion of the results thus far achieved in the battle, Lieutenant General Count Cadorna, commander in chief of the victorious forces, smilingly replied:

"We are doing nicely, thank you "

The official communication on the result of the battle show that the demoralization of the Austrian troops is in part due to the extraordinary aerial and artillery work of the Italians, which has destroyed not only the lines of comunication but has resulted in the burning of all the main food supply stations of the Austrians, who for the last week have been starving at many points between Tolmino and the sea.

This accounts for the unusual number of prisoners and wounded.

The total losses of the Austrians from all causes are reckoned at nearly 100,000, the most important of which, in the Carso region, have not yet been officially announced. It is said that among the losses of the Austrians are many men of the famous Twelfth Division, popularly known as the "Iron Division "

MISS METZ TO TELL OF COUNTY LIBRARY WORK IN THE WEST

Miss Corinne Metz, county librarian of Wasto county, Oregon, will speak on the "County Library" movement at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow afternoon at 3 o clock. This meeting is under the auspices of the civic bureau of the chamber and is open to the general public. Representatives will be present from the City Library Association, the Federation of Woman's clubs, and other organizations.

Miss Metz, a Newark girl, went to Oregon four years ago and assumed her duties as librarian of Wasto county. She now has under her charge seventeen branches, which are under the direction of the parent library in The Dolles. One of the branches is more than 100 miles distant from the parent library. The talk will be very interesting and Miss Metz has been asked to give it by a number of persons who are interested in the library movement She will return to Oregon Wednesday to assume her work for another year.

COUNTY DISCIPLES ELECT OFFICERS AT SUNDAY'S MEETING

Twelve Disciple churches participated in the county meeting held at the Central Church of Christ all day Sunday, and a number of members of the county congregations participated in the three services and business sessions.

Three eloquent addresses were given by Rev. Thomas E. Cramblet, president of Bethany college, a Disciple institution. Rev. Mr. Camblet addressed large congregations in the morning, afternoon and evening services and in the evening a sepcial musical program was given by the choir.

Following the afternoon service, a business meeting fo the Licking County Christian Union was held and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev H. H. Carter of Hebron, treasurer Miss Elsie Hobbs of Eden and secretary Mrs. Rose Wilson of Newark.

At the noon hour a picnic dinner was served in the church.

GRANVILLE BOY IN ENGLISH ARMY GETS PROMOTION

(Special to Advocate)

Granville, O., Aug 27—Dwight Sample, the Granville boy who enlisted in the English army at the beginning of hostilities as civil engineer, is now a corporal, who at the time of writing to a friend had been granted a two weeks' furlough. He spoke of the feeling of encouragement to both English and French since the arrival of American troops on the west front, and says that that feeling amounts to the conviction among the men that it is "all over but the shouting." He doubtless is now back in the trenches, or will be shortly.

Neighbors of Mrs. Carrie Devinney, residing in East Elm street, reminded her in delightful fashion on Saturday afternoon that she was to be congratulated on the anniversary of her birth, with no special evidences of a "surprise party." friends began to drop in with their knitting until about twenty had assembled, when their purpose could be concealed no longer. William Spellman, friend and neighbor, also was included in the festivities, as observing his birthday at that time At 5.30 a charmingly appointed supper was served and hearty congratulations extended by the entire company.

As Mr and Mrs. Thomas Arnold were returning to their home on North street from a drive, Sunday evening, their horse became frightened and suddenly plunged down a slight embrankment in front of the D. M. Hutchinson residence. The move was so unexpected that Mrs Arnold, who was holding the baby in her lap, was thrown out falling on her shoulder, and the baby landed unhurt on the grass This morning. Mrs. Arnold is able to be around the house though considerably bruised by her fall

As there seems to be some doubt in certain quarters that Granville's claim to being considered a model village are not yet justified, the good work of improvement is proceeding as rapidly as possible. Pearl street is being rapidly transformed into a boulevard; the ordinance to pave Mulbrery street has passed. and the resolution to improve Plum and Burg streets passed the council last week The town enjoys a waterworks and sewerage system, electric street lighting, natural gas, medium sidewalks, one beautiful thoroughfare two splendid cross streets, but the average of excellence in which is lowered by the poor condition of the other streets. There is a good public school system and, as everyone knows, one of the best colleges in the country located here. If this is not the "model village," it approaches nearer such a condition than almost any other town of its size.

Mrs. Olive Buchman, who has spent a fortnight visiting friends in Canton, returned Saturday evening. She announces her intention of closing the "Bluebird Tea House," which has been so popular with the college young people, and with her daughter, Miss Charlotte, of taking up her residence once more in Canton.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin (via London), Aug. 27.—The Germans were forced out of Beaumont on the Verdun front east of the Meuse in yesterday's fighting, but subsequently recaptured the village and wooded sections, the war office announces. The fighting in this sector continues.

Today's official report from the Russo-Galician front says that in the Dvina river region northwest, west of Jacobstadt, on the northern sector of the line, the Rsusians yielded some positions to the Germans.

MAC MILLAN SAYS CROCKER LAND MYTH, MISLED BY MIRAGE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 27.—Donald B. Mac Millan, who arrived here yesterday after four years in the Arctic is not content with his achievements.

"I have work to do yet." he said today. "About 150 miles of coast to explore, and I hope to go back soon "

Speaking enthusiastically of the far north, he said: "It is the land of men up there."

Mr. Mac Millan, who with Johnathan C. Small, his mechanic and general aide, was brought here by the sealing steamer Neptune, in command of Captain Robert Bartlett, will leave tomorrow for his home in Freeport, Maine, whence he will go to New York to give a full report of the results of his expedition to the American Museum of Natural History.

The outstanding achievement was the establishing of the fact that the so-called Crocker land, which Rear Admiral Peary reported having discovered in the Arctic, did not exist Mr. Mac Millan said that he and his companions were deceived for several days by the same mirage which misled Peary.

GERMAN PEOPLE MORE CONCERNED IN FOOD SUPPLY

month with a definitely outlined program.

That the majority parties are not inclined to give the newly created council permanent importance is indicated by press comment The following deputies have been elected by their parties to membership in the council: Socialist Democrats, Philipp Scheidemann and Friedrich Ebert; Centrists, Mathias Arzberger and Herr Fehrenbach, Progressive, Friedrich von Payer; National Liberal, Dr. Gustav Stresemann; Conservative, Count von Westarp.

While a slip of the tongue by the chancellor and a bungled report of Wednesday's session were directly responsible for the tension of the past week, the existence of much combustible material of a political and parliamentary nature is likely to call forth other flare-ups, on account of the present mood and temper of the reighstag majority. Wednesday's ruction is symptomatic of the majority's growing appetite for increased authority and responsibility and further conflicts in the attempt to appease that appetite are hardly avoidable.

It has now become known that Chancellor Michaelis made his second statement of Wednesday, definitely fixing his attitude toward the reichstag's peace resolution, before the introduction of the majority's declaration regarding the establishment of full concordance between it and the statement of the chancellor on July 19. Notwithstanding the chancellor's revised statement, which made his protest superfluous, the declaration was read The mischief was thus done and the outside world received the impression that another crisis had come For this the mismanagement of the censorship over reports of the committee's deliberations must be blamed.

Over this boiling cauldron there presides a new chancellor who made his record as a capable official and organizer in governmental departments. He is admittedly a tyro in the handling of practical politics.

Opposing the reichstag majority is the numerically small but powerful conservative and pan-German faction which just now is not standing idly by while liberalism is threatening to reshape political and parliamentary institutions These reaction forces for the most part represent the nation's finance big business and landed interests.

If the chancellor today feels that the wind temporarily is being tempered to the shorn lamb, it is due to his conviction that German eyes are riveted on the various fronts and the resistance being offered there by the German troops and that the nation at large is quite willing to await a more auspicious time for rearrangement of its political household furniture. An attempt to draw the man in the street into a discussion of the new orientation is likely to be met with an expression of his satisfaction over the arrival of new potatoes and the fact that the bread ration has been increased.

O. E. TRAINMEN GET WAGE INCREASE; TO BE EFFECTIVE HERE

In accordance with the agreement of the settlement of the Ohio Electric company strike at Lima, August 13, the trainmen of that company will receive an advance of from one to two cents per hour. Cars will run a half hour earlier and 30 minutes later.

The new wage-schedule affects Newark, Zanesville and Lima, and gives the men 25 cents per hour for the first year and an additional cent per hour for each successive year up to the sixth year in the railway's employ. Beginning with the sixth year the men will receive 30 cents per hour.

The old rate was 26, 27 and 28 cents an hour, according to the length of service.

The men working from 9.1 to 9.6 hours a day will receive pay for a 10-hour day.

Six additional men will be necessary for the new schedule .

SEWER DATA WILL BE GATHERED BY NEW COMMITTEE

A committee to investigate and promote the best methods of giving Newark a modern sewerage and disposal system has been appointed by Chairman A. A. Stasel of the membership council of the Chamber of Commece to begin work at once. The members of the committee are: E. M. Baugher, W. C. Metz, Chas. L. Flory, J. M. Mitchell and Wilson Hakins.

The first meeting of the committee will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock when it will organize and select a chairman. This committee will investigate the sewerage systems of other cities, gather data, and work with the city council to give Newark this necessary improvement. This committee will work independent of the water committee which has taken up the matter of a filtration system for the city.

STOLEN RIG RECOVERED AT CHILLICOTHE SUNDAY

power with bayonets are making a mistake," said M. Kerensky. "Let them take care, for our authority is supported by the boundless confidence of the people and by millions of soldiers who are defending us against the German invasion.

"The provisional government is convinced that all of you who have come here will forget everything except your duty toward your country and the revolution. The government believes it can tell the truth, not only to our friends but also to our enemies—those who are destroying our troops and those among us who are waiting for the moment when they may be able to raise their heads and pounce upon the free Russian people.

"I say again that I will hide nothing from you, for we have come together for the first time to speak to you frankly, to tell you of the unbearable, the immense responsibility which we are bearing, despite all the blows we are receiving.

"Citizens, the state is passing through a period of mortal danger. I do not say more, for you all understand. You see it, for each of you experiences it in a different way. You all know the task incumbent upon you, for the struggle against a powerful, implacable and organized enemy demands great sacrifices, self-denial, deep love of our country and the forgetting of domestic quarrels. Unfortunately, not all who are able are willing to offer all this on the altar of their country, ruined by war, and they thus render the critical situation of our country more serious every day.

KERENSKY'S SPEECH DID NOT SATISFY ANY SINGLE FACTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Aug. 27.—"Premier Kerensky's speech in opening the national conference did not satisfy a single party or succeed in uniting the different groups in mutual service for the country," says the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Moscow. "The democrats are dissatisfied with the dictator-like government. The anti-democrats expected a practical program for the carrying out of measures to put down anarchy. They also are dissatisfied with the premier's declaration regarding the impossibility of imagining a country without freedom saying this is no time to talk of freedom and social reforms.

"Monday is expected to be the day of atonement. The various groups are expected to speak out freely and voice their aspirations. Much depends on whose words find an echo in M. Kerensky's own aspirations.

"Personally I do not believe the cabinet will undergo changes as a coalition is the only possible form of government at this juncture. Should the conference fail in a last effort to organize a national government the responsibility will fall on those elements which put the interests of their own classes above those of the country.

"Moscow has resumed its normal aspects. The strike has been discontinued and the Moscow council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates with other organizations has appealed to the population to abstain from demonstrations. The Petrograd Maximalists of the central executive council have been deprived of their mandates on account of unwillingness to submit the decision against separate action."

KORNILOFF ATTENDS MEETING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Petrograd, Aug. 27. — General Korniloff, commander in chief of the Russian army, informs the press that he intends to make a report on the military situation to the conference at Moscow and hopes that important resolutions will be adopted.

Iron the Cool Electric Way When It's Hot

The woman who does her ironing in the old-fashioned way during hot summer weather chooses between two evils. She must either remain in the kitchen, where the heat makes the atmosphere almost unbearable or walk to and from another room, back and forth with weary feet, every time the iron cools.

MAKES QUICK WORK OF IRONING

An Electric Iron takes nearly all the labor out of ironing. Attach it to any light socket—wherever it's coolest. Turn a switch and your iron is ready to remove the creases from the daintiest frills or the heaviest blankets. And all the time you are cool and fresh.

$4.50 places a labor-saving Electric Iron in your home. Telephone us now and we'll deliver it to your address.

Now is the best time to equip your home for the many comforts and conveniences electricity affords.

Examine your teeth tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

THE GRAND.

"The Hawk."

"Accepted from the celebrated play which had such a successful run on Broadway—this screen drama is made more attractive—more human and more highly geared from an action standpoint than it could ever be on the stage. "The Hawk" is a sporting gentleman in high life who makes gaming a passion in order to keep his innocent wife in luxury. How the other man comes into their lives, brings about the reform of this gambler and is responsible for his repossession of his wife's lost love, is a story full of dramatic action and heart interest that grips you throughout. See it at the Grand tonight and tomorrow.

AUDITORIUM.

Saturday Night's Show.

The first attraction of the theatrical season was tinkling, musical mixup, "Peck's Bad Boy," under the management of Chas. W. Benner, and the company broke all previous records, playing to two capacity audiences Saturday, matinee and night. In the afternoon Manager George M. Fenberg was compelled to close the ticket window and hang out the S. R. O. sign and turn scores of people away.

The principal comedian, Max Schultz, the groceryman, was in the hands of Steve Berrian, an old favorite here and a versatile character comedian, who kept the audience in an uproar continually throughout the play. He was ably assisted by Mrs. Kathryn Benner in her Irish portrayal of Mary, the cook.

The girls of the company were all clever but special credit is due Miss Laura Bishop, for her dances and songs Miss Bishop is a Columbus girl and the young lady who captured the prize as the most beautiful girl in a popularity contest last spring, receiving a substantial cash prize and having a popular brand of cigars named after her carrying her portrait on the lid. Miss Bishop will leave for Los Angelas in the very near future to go into the movies, having received a tempting offer from one of the large producing companies in that city.

Oliver Knight, as Patrick Duffy, the policeman, was very clever and the young man is one of the best dancers in the profession. The remainder of the company were all good and the entertainment was pleasing throughout.

A Kiss For Susie.

The Auditorium today and tomorrow offers another well worthy Paramount picture in the Pallas production of "A Kiss for Susie" by Harvey Thaw. This photoplay was taken from the story of Paul West and the star is none other than Vivian Martin, who is seen at her very best—the charming little daughter of a humble workman. In her support are seen, Tom Forman, John Burton, Jack Nolson, Pauline Perry, Chris Lynton and others. The story is clever, tells of Susie Nolan, who is the youngest daughter and head of the family of Jim Nolan, one of the bricklayers in the employ of Burnham& Schwartz, Jim Nolan, Jr., as a collector for a mercantile firm and Lizzie Nolan, the big sister is a stenographer who is simply waiting for her father's wealthy brother Dennis to die, so that she can live a life of ease. Susie looks after the house and daily carries her fathers lunch to the job where he chance to be working.

The senior member of the firm of Burnham& Schwartz is dead and the widow of his partner has social aspirations for the son, Phil, but he wishes to enter the firm and instead of going to Palm Beach as she requests, begins at the bottom as a hod carrier. He meets Susie one noon time and then always to have lunch with her father. As a poor hod carrier he calls on Susie and is welcome. One day Phil's mother learns that he is not at Pal mBeach—goes to Schwartz and makes him take her to town. She then orders Phil back into society.

From this on it grows interesting and you must see it to know how it all ends. As an added feature today Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle is seen in the two reel Paramount comedy "His Wedding Night" Pathe News, is also an interesting added feature today—this issue being full of the latest war news. For big features, the program today cannot be beaten.

Fatty Arbuckle.

Fatty Arbuckle in his new comedy "His Wedding Night" is a screem and if you were not among the two thous and picture fans who saw him at the Auditorium yesterday, why we would say, be sure and see him today, for the two roller is held over and is seen together with Vivian Martin in the big Paramount feature "A Kiss For Susie."

Dew Drop Inn.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Sunday, August 16th, says:

The opening attraction of the Grand opera house is "Dew Drop Inn" the big musical comedy success, which opens our season on Sunday, September 2nd. This piece enjoyed great success in Chicago, where it had an all-summer run. It is light and breezy, it is said, and just the kind of an attraction for the warm summer days of September. In the cast, which is headed by the inimitable Percival Knight, comedian, are the following players: Winona Winters, Arthur Alysworth, Florence Morrison, Eliss Milford, Roy Keith, Chas. Meyer, Banks Winter and a large chorus of beauties. A. Baldwin Sloan wrote the music for "Dew Drop Inn" and Mr. Knight and John E. Hazzard the book.

The above is the opening attraction for the regular theatrical season of 1917-18 and Newark theatre goers are to be congratulated on being able to see this cleverly constructed musical feature and should turn out in force when it is seen at the Auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening, September 1st. The seats go on sale Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m. The scale of prices being most liberal for Newark.

Notes.

Neil O'Brien and his famous minstrel organization is soon coming to the Auditorium. Al. G. Field's as usual will be seen later in the season This season these are the only two minstrel companies that will appear at the Auditorium. Mr. O'Brien's company is playing in the eastern states and from press reports sent Manager Fenberg big business is being done in every city so far visited.

Manager George Fenberg has booked a most wonderful picture feature for Labor Day in "The Tanks in Action at the Battle of the Ancre." These are the extraordinary official war pictures that attract record crowds to the Strand Theatre, New York and at the present time is drawing capacity business in every city it is now showing. The picture and scenes shown in this feature were taken under the auspices of the British army while the battle of Anore was raging, these amazing pictures reveal the death-dealing monsters crushing through the barb wire entanglements and smashing all obstacles. Never before i nthe history of motion pictures has any attraction received reviews from the New York press which unanimously acclaim "The Tanks at The Battle of Anore," the greatest war pictures ever shown in American.

Friday, the Auditorium will screen for one day only, Virginia Pearson in "Wrath of Love" a thrilling film drama with a tense war theme, in which patriotic spirit mingled with stirring dramatic interest is strong. Irving Cummings, well known locally is Miss Person's leading man and is seen as Bob Lawson.

The 9th Episode of "Partia" with Mrs. Vernon Castle, will be seen at the Auditorium Wednesday of this week. This episode is said to be very thrilling, also shows the rescue of Patria and Don from the Black Tom explosion. Patria from now on becomes one of the most thrilling serials ever screened in Newark, for every inch is said to contain a thrill of some sort.

ALHAMBRA.

Tonight and Tomorrow.

Mary Miles Minter, "Lovey Mary," is given a part that fits her like a French kid glove in "Melissa of the Hills," her new Mutual-American drama.

The pretty little star, with her big wonder eyes and little girlie curls, her graceful gestures and childlike smiling face, insinuates herself into the hearts of beholders before the first act is half run, nd thereafter holds them enthralled no less with the perfection of her art than with the development of a delightful character.

Wednesday and Thursday.

When "A Self-Made Widow," the newest World-Picture Brady-Made, comes to the Alhambra on Wednesday and Thursday the patrons of this theatre will have the opportunity of seeing Miss Alice Brady in particularly fascinating role, that of an unsophisticated young country girl who is very romantic and who elopes to New York city with a handsome city man. But when she reaches New York she finds that her prospective husband has a wife and several children. Rather than admit her mistake she takes a desperate chance and stays.

Florence Morrison, the funniest woman on the stage, who will appear at the Auditorium Theatre in "Dew Drop Inn" when that musical comedy success comes to Newark, Saturday, September 1st.

The wonderfully beautiful cabaret scene in "Dew Drop Inn" the big musical comedy which comes to the Auditorium on Saturday, September 1st.

BUILDING UP GOOD WILL.

People who are trying to get into business nowadays find they have to pay a lot for the intangible asset called "good will," that is, provided they get the real thing. You can buy any old kind of a business, and not pay much more than the stock is worth. To get a business that is widely known and has an established circle of custom, good money must be paid. It becomes a big problem how anyone can get that reputation and what he must pay for it.

There are just two ways of creating this reputation so that people keep coming back to a place. One is to squat down in a location and wait until time and chance bring trade to you. A man will get some trade that way, but it is a long time coming. It comes by accident and indirection. Few people start out with the conscious purpose of visiting such a place, but from reasons of proximity they may happen in. It takes a big slice out of a life-time to get trade simply by waiting passively for it.

The other method cost a little more money, but it produces positive results within a reasonable time. That is by advertising. It is the natural human way to get it. Seek and ye shall find, were the words of Scripture.

It is true in every phase of life, that what you get must be actively sought for. Human nature does not take kindly to passive waiting, but it is attracted by active pushing.

The returns of an advertising campaign should not be measured simply by the receipts from day to day. People who have built up large concerns never measured their progress that way. If their advertising was constantly attracting new people into the store, they knew that a good will was being built up that presently would be worth a great deal of money, and which could be sold for a high cash value if they desired to dispose of it.

The Auditorium did a record-breaking business Saturday. At the matinee the house was croded and people were turned away and at the evening performance the "S. R. O." sign was out. And yet some people wonder why more "good things" are not brought to the Auditorium. The answer is that productions like that offered last Saturday draw the business, while a high-class offering oftentimes plays to a handful of people.

THE MIGHTY MOTHER.

(By Henry Dwight Sedgwick.)

Max Muller, the great Oriental scholar, in editing a friend's reminiscences of infancy, tells how one of the earliest incidents that friend could remember was how he first saw the stars. One night he felt cold, shivered and was frightened, his mother picked him up and hugged him in her arms, and pointed up to the shining stars. "I was full of admiration," said the friend, "and thought my mother had made them very prettily."

This serves as an allegory. Our Mighty Mother, America, takes her children in her arms, and allays their fears by pointing to the bright stars that crown the flag. When we are children we think that our Might yMother has made those stars and that she has made them well. But when we are grown up, we know that the Mighty Mother is made up of ourselves, that her great heart is made up of all our hearts, and that the stars she points to are mere emblems of justice, righteousness, equality, fraternity, temperance, fortitude, and whatever other virtues ennoble humanity. The Mighty Mother longs to show these stars to all her children, whether they are born into cradles over here or whether they have emigrated from foreign lands; but the Mighty Mother can only do this, if we, one and all, endow her with the strength and the will to do it.

It is our Mother America who is now calling to us to make the stars upon our flag stand for real things. Now is the opportunity for all her sons to perform their mother's wish. Our first step is the bitterness of war; we must do all the seemingly inhuman acts that war imposes upon us. Then when the war shall be ended, and we can say to our Mighty Mother, behold, your children have brought you the ripe fruits harvested by the great scythe of war, there are no more Tsars or Kaisers in Europe, the peoples of Europe are all free men, no longer bound to commit acts of injustice at the bidding of selfish lords, but free to follow the kindly instincts of man.

Then the Mighty Mother will feel that she, too, is free; no longer threatened by foreign armies and navies, no more obliged to train her sons with sword and rifle she will be free to work the works of human justice. And we, her children, may hope to see her gird up her loins for the great tasks of democracy: to abate the privileges of the too-favored classes, to repress luxury, to give all men greater opportunities for the individual pursuit of happiness, to save waste by vast co-operative effort, to extend the spirit of democracy to all the great industries, railroads, shipping, petroleum, sugar, copper, iron and steel, lumber, agriculture, etc.

But before we enter the Promised Land we must cross the Red Sea of War. The Mighty Mother will lead us on: from our strength she will draw in strength, from our purposes she will toughen her will, from our endurance she will be able to endure, from our resolve to conquer she will conquer, and from our going into this war not with hatred, but with pity not for revenge but in order to help, she will be able to behave with kindness and affection to all the peoples of Europe.

O Mighty Mother, we dedicate ourselves to thee.

ADVERTISING AND COSTS.

Some men can think up queer arguments when trying to sell goods. For instance, a dealer the other day said: "I don't advertise, so I can give you what I save in that way in the cost of the goods."

It was noticed that the man kept no clerks. He could do all the business there was for him on that basis without assistance. It would have been just as logical for him to say: "I keep no clerks, so I save that expense, and I give you the difference."

Anything that increases business should reduce expenses. When a man increases sales by advertising or by keeping more help, the cost of selling any article, if the business is well-managed, should be less than before. The small and non-advertised business has too much overhead expense for its volume of sales. As a matter of common experience, it is not able to give low prices.

CENSORSHIP AND SUSPICION.

(Ohio State Journal.)

That a limited censorship is necessary in carrying on the operations of war is evident even to the lay mind. However, there is one serious drawback to censorship of all kinds; it is likely to create suspicion. For instance, there have lately been rumors that the real conditions in the war zone, particularly in Russia, are being kept from us, that the Germans are having greater success than is reported and that they are on the way to Petrograd.

We can scarcely believe that such matters as these, if true, would be kept from the American people. War censorship is for the purpose of concealing our plans and movements from the enemy. There is not, or should not be, any intention in an enlightened country of keeping the progress of the war from the people. Americans are not a nation of children to be easily frightend by the news of a defeat in Russia or anywhere else. Rather, such tidings would send our young men forth with renewed energy and in large numbers. The theory of "only good news" is insulting to the intelligence of any nation, and we do not believe our government or any other, outside of Germany, would indulge in it.

TESTING NEUTRALS GOOD FAITH.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)

The deadlock on exports of foodstuffs to neutral countries dominated by Germany was lifted last week when our government released shipments of grain to the Netherlands and to Sweden. For some weeks past Dutch ships laden with grain have been held at our ports awaiting satisfactory guarantees that if they were permitted to sail the grain they carried would not find its way to Germany. The agreement reached with Holland provides that a certain portion of the grain shall be available for the relief of Belgium, and Sweden was permitted to import a specified amount of American rye of the 1917 crop on condition of selling at cost 600,000 bushels of grain in American elevators to the Belgium Relief Commission.

Official statistics on our commerce with Holland and Sweden prove that those countries have been importing from us many times the quantities which they used in pre-war years. The only inference was that they were reselling to Germany. While we remained a neutral and were dealing with the Entente Allies we could not criticize or interfere with dealings of other neutrals with the Central Powers. The situation was entirely changed when Germany became our enemy. We were in duty bound to prevent supplies from the United States reaching our enemy indirectly through a neutral. The position of the latter was fully appreciated. Holland is virtually at the mercy of Germany, in a military as well as an economic sense. Germany has been steadily increasing the economic pressure upon Holland. It has failed to keep coal contracts with that country, and recently intimated that no more coal would be forthcoming unless Holland sent her own miners to German mines to produce the coal. The latest action of the Imperial Government was to refuse Holland any more steel for shipbuilding unless she agreed to operate the ships in the interest of Germany now and for a period of five years following the negotiations of peace.

Of course our government is fully informed on the situation. Doubtless it will put a "tracer" on the shipments released last week. If it finds that Holland and Sweden have violated their agreement, either voluntarily or on pressure from Germany, no additional supplies will be permitted to leave this country.

THE PRO-GERMAN PEOPLE'S COUNCIL

By CHARLES J. ROSEBAULT, OF THE VIGILANTES

The People's Council of America has come in for considerable public attention within the past week, and is now branded before the people of the entire country as a pro-German organization, using its utmost endeavors to stifle the co-operation of the American people with the President for the punishment of Criminal Germany and the establishment of some degree of justice and democracy throughout the world. Its agents are making treasonable speeches wherever they are permitted to do so on street corners, its organizers are appealing to the credulity of the ignorant, the fears of the cowardly, the desire to avoid sacrifice of the slackers, the arrogance of those pacifists who consider themselves superior to the will of the nation, to the paid agents of Germany and to the sympathizers with German aggression.

Within the past few days a vast amount of literature has been going out from the main offices of this organization in New York City. This literature has been accompanied by a letter frantically appealing for financial support. The Council must have ten thousand dollars within a week to carry on its propaganda, says this letter, and fifty thousand dollars before September first, when a national convention is to be held in Minneapolis.

Seventy Fifth Avenue, New York, appears to have been unanimously decided upon as the headquarters for all the anti-American, pro-German, pacifist organizations of that city. Here the People's Council has a suite of three large offices, with twenty-eight clerks and stenographers busily pounding typewriters and sending out tracts through the long summer days. Here, also, may be seen the "organizers" coming and going on their mission for the corruption of the manhood of the country. Only, as this address appears to have had considerable unpleasant attention in the newspapers, the address on the letter heads and circulars is put as 2 West 13th Street, where there is another entrance to the same building.

In one of its circulars the Council claims that "over one million two hundred thousand people are behind their movement." Inasmuch as numerous instances have been reported to The Vigilantes where individuals radically opposed to the Council and all its works were addressed as "dear member," it is not illogical to question this statement.

The seditious character of this organization may be judged from numerous statements in its literature. "We are engaged in a war 'to make the world safe for democracy.'" [illegible] "yet every day [illegible] democracy is more and more [illegible]. Every day our constitutional rights are assailed."

The [illegible] that America [illegible] of a [illegible] and that the people [illegible] our government. It is interesting to note in this connection that the Committee which controls the powers of the People's Council was "put over" at a public mass meeting without the opportunity for anybody to dissent, and has since exercised authority of a most dictatorial character. On this Committee we find such names as David Starr Jordan, Morris Hillquit, (pro-German socialist, who has succeeded in removing all the real Americans from the American Socialist Party and turned over the organization to Germany), Fola La Follette, daughter of the great senatoral obstructionist, the agitator Eugene V. Debs and such distinctively American patriots as Louis P. Lochner, Benjamin Schlesinger, Joseph Schlossberg, and Rose Schneiderman.

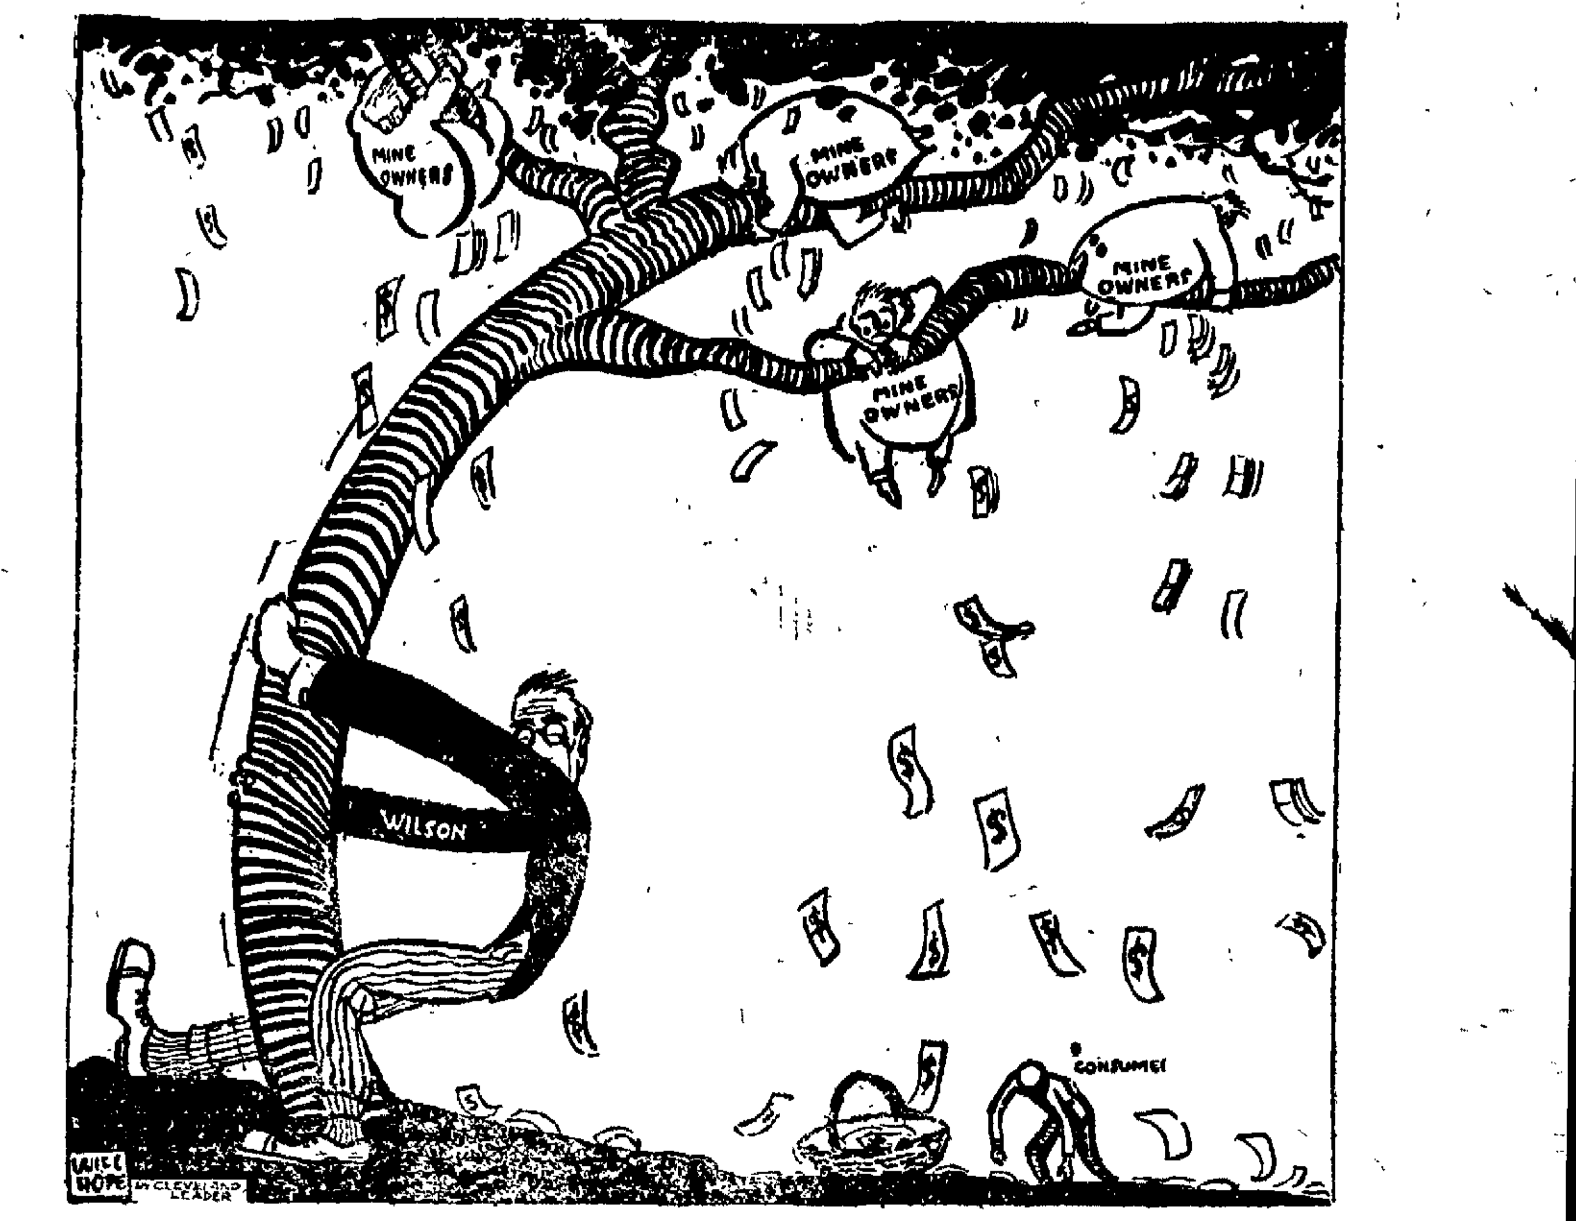
Chief among the announced aims of this organization is an immediate (or German) peace and the repeal of the Conscription Law, to which purposes Fola La Follette's patriotic father has sought to give effect in the United States Senate. Further the Council announces, "we pledge ourselves to work for the repeal of all laws for compulsory service and to oppose the enactment of all such laws in the future." Of course, this society demands exemption of all "conscientious objectors."

The governing Committee speaks with no uncertain voice as to the intention of the organization to take charge of affairs in this country. Speaking of the convention to be held on September first, it says: "There the people will take charge of their affairs and Plan Action. Your voice will speak on war and peace, your Government will be told the people's sovereign will."

Now all this might be dismissed with a shrug of contempt in ordinary times. There is bound to be in every country a lot of pestiferous, vainglorious kickers, shirkers and cowards. But these are not ordinary times and the liberty of even a small group to agitate against the Government may have serious consequences. Not only will it encourage opposition at home, provide arguments for those who are annoyed at the obligations imposed upon them, salve the consciousness of those who wish to evade their plain duty and embolden the pro-Germans and their representatives in Congress, but it is sure to be magnified in the reports sent abroad. In Russia the proponents of a separate peace will be furnished with fresh ammunition; in Germany the Junkers will be able to point to the seeming unwillingness of the American people to support their government in the war; and in France, Italy and England the people will be [illegible] misled as to the actual [illegible] in this country.

Sooner or later this treasonable propaganda will have to be squelched. To those who feel that DELAY [illegible] one of our dead [illegible] in dealing with this organization and its like is little short of criminal weakness.

SIGNS OF AN EARLY FALL



Spirit of the Press

The Thrifty West.

They have a thrifty way of utilizing the by-products of life out in Indiana. The method employed is an annual picnic of widows and widowers. It does look good, doesn't it? Why waste a perfectly good young widow? Or, for that matter, why allow an unspoiled widower to roam at large without a guiding principle in the form of a sophisticated wearer of what used to be referred to as widow's weeds?—Binghamton Press.

They Who Belie Nature.

Travesties under the name of civilization, under the name pleasure, under the name profit, under the name fame—travesties of ambition and enterprise, travesties from the nature viewpoint—take up much of the time and thought of mankind. But let the philosophers work these things out and let them place upon the grill those whom they may select for their punitive displeasure. The one outstanding fact is that they who follow after false leadings and misleadings of life are out of step with—they belie—nature.—Baltimore American.

A Neglected Grain.

In all the talk about food resources, nothing has been said to encourage the buckwheat pancake. The sight of a field of buckwheat is a most unusual vision; the production was less in 1916 than in the 10 years preceding. Buckwheat is not a cereal, botanically, though classed as such in crop reports; it is herbaceous and its original name, beech-wheat, was given it because of the resemblance of its kernel to the triangular nut of the beech. The pioneers who cleared a little space in the forest planted corn and buckwheat, crops which would mature before frost and furnish winter foods, and thus the buckwheat pancake became the breakfast timber of the early settlers.—Detroit Free Press.

The Knitting Girls.

Don't be so quick to laugh at the girls when you see them knitting at the theatre, in their automobiles, or even as they walk along the street. It's ridiculous, of course; and one may well doubt whether the knitting done under such conditions amounts to a hill of beans. But nearly every good thing has a little faddish end to it. And, if the girls make a fashion of their knitting and their perfectly good, gay knitting bags, there's no harm done, but, on the contrary, much good. For, unlike most fads, this one is expressive of a great big solid work, and of urgency in it. The girls who knit in the tearoom while their lunch is being served may not do many rows in that time, but they are expressing the general consciousness of the need of the soldiers, and the eagerness of the women of America to supply it.—Ohio State Journal.

Comforting Thought.

I'll admit conditions in some of the Allied countries are not the best.

Well?

While I know nothing about it I'll be willing to bet good money that the Germans are not living in the lap of luxury either.—Detroit Free Press.

It is heaven upon earth to have a man's mind move in charity, rest in Providence, and turn upon the poles of truth.—Bacon.

Her Point of View.

"My wife speaks to the point when I Come home at night," said Boynt;
"It is, though, I shall not deny,
The interrogation point."

This Seems Reasonable.

Aunt Ca'line says, Marcus Black's boy which is Will B. is sick an' he was jest a-layin' around an' didn't seem to git no better an' yesterday he simple all broke out, so they sent fer Doc Carvem. The minute Doc sited him good he says, "Chicken pox," he says rite off. "There Maw," says Will real cross. "I knowed I'd have it. Wonner I didn't have it long ago." he says, "you a-makin' me feed them there dang ole chickens nite an' mornin'," he says.

What's Your Opinion?

"Expressing a thought in Society,' observed the Man, "is not only unnecessary, but is actually discouraged by that fashionable body." And if this be true the question inevitably presents itself, "What is Society for?" The Melting Pot will give a dollar for a satisfactory answer to this query.

Was It High Street?

Some prominent observer has told us that white stockings make the limbs, as we always say in Ohio, look larger than anything else of the kind but we shall not accept the theory as fact until we see a fairly conducted, nonhandicap contest between them and yellow and blue horizontal-striped ones, such as we happened to see going along this quiet street yesterday.—Ohio State Journal.

The normal state of that street may be quiet, and we have no doubt it is if Mr. Robert Ryder says so, but it couldn't possibly have sustained this character while those y and b striped ones were going along.

A Vacation Reverie.

Little Bank Roll, ere we part,
Let me hug you to my heart;
All the year I've clung to you,
I've been faithful, you've been true,
Little Bank Roll, in a day,
You and I will start away
To a gay and festive spot—
I'll come back, but you will not.
Luke McLuke.

Made of Byplay as thou art,
You seem of myself a part;
You and I've had many a jest,
Now, through you, I've had a rest;
I am grateful to you, so
Hear my vow before you go;
Your legal tenderness, you bet,
Luke McLuke will not forget.

Did You Know

That the fallow deer is a species of deer commonly kept in parks in most parts of Europe? It is probably a native of the countries around the Mediterranean. Its introduction into Britain is ascribed to James VI of Scotland, who is said to have brought it from Norway when he brought home his queen, Anne of Denmark, and after his accession to the English throne, to have transported it to Enfield and Epping.

OHIO DEFENSE COUNCIL ECONOMY TIPS

CAN SURPLUS STRING BEANS

Columbus, Aug. 27.—By canning, drying and preserving vegetables, the housewife can help the United States win the war, according to a bulletin issued today by the Ohio Defense Council. Canning and drying offer the best ways of preserving such foodstuffs, the bulletin says. Here's how to can wax, stringless and green beans, the bulletin says:

"String or hull. Blanch in live steam for five to ten minutes, or from 2 to 5 minutes in boiling water. Remove and dip quickly into cold water. Pack in hot jars and add boiling water until jars are full. Add one level teaspoon of salt to each quart. Put on rubbers and caps, but not tightly. Place cans in hat water which covers them 2 or 3 inches. Boil for two hours and finish sealing immediately, making sure there is no leakage.

"To dry beans: Wash carefully and string. If full grown, split or cut lengthwise into pieces 1-4 to 1 inch long. If young and tender dry them whole. Blanch six to ten minutes. After blanching, dip quickly in cold water, then drain thoroughly to remove surface moisture. Dry young beans two hours; mature ones three hours. Start with heat of 110 degrees F. and raise gradually to 145 degrees."

SUFFERED NINE YEARS

Many Remedies Tried in Vain. Well and Strong After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Spartanburg, S. C.—"For nine years I suffered from backache, weakness, and irregularities so I could hardly do my work. I tried many remedies but found no permanent relief. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great change for the better and am now well and strong so I have no trouble in doing my work. I hope every user of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will get as great relief as I did from its use."—Mrs. S. D. McABEE, 122 Dewey Ave., Spartanburg, S. C.

The reason women write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved. This is a praiseworthy thing to do and such women should be highly commended.

GREEK DEPUTIES ANGERED AS ONE DEFENDS KING

Athens, Aug. 27.—M. Boussios, opposition member, raised a tumult in the chamber of deputies when he declared that King Constantine never abdicated but only had been dismissed by the entente powers as proved by the fact that the act of abdication had not been presented to the chamber. Premier Venizelos and other deputies left their seats to protect M. Boussios from personal attacks by angry members of the majority.

Later the possibility and opportuneness of establishing a republic in Greece was discussed. Mr. Venizelos declared:

"Despite the weakening of royal power through the fallen king's actions, the government interpreting the feeling of the chamber, thinks another trial should be given to the royal institution in Greece. It is certainly the last experiment we are asking. I am certain the Greek people and majority representatives will approve sincereliy the trial in order to make strong and sure conditions for the eventual working of the regime of a crowned republic."

Bret Harte and the West.

The west is still an indefinite term, and many things have been called western which more strictly were far western. The efflorescence of California in the brilliant satire of Bret Harte, to name him only who was first of the Californians, was an effect of the east in the new conditions of the Pacific slope. It had no root in the soil, and none of the poets who formed the San Francisco school of Harte's day were of California birth, much less culture. They were only western by sojourn.

Harte himself, who was first of them, had greater originality in his verse than in his prose, but he was born in and grew up in Albany. The literary atmosphere which he breathed in the west was, as it were, piped from the east, and his ambition was, as the generous expectation of his fellow exiles was for him, to suggest in his prose the literary art of Dr. Holmes.—William Dean Howells in Harper's Magazine.

WHY BLOOD SHOULD BE RED

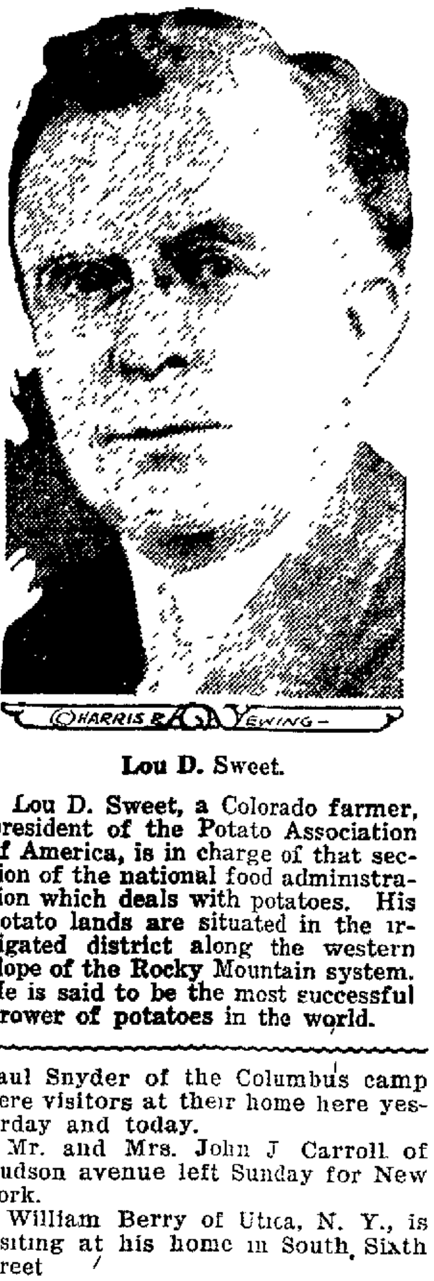
The bright red color of the blood is caused by the presence in it of red corpuscles. It is these little bodies that carry nourishment to the tissues. They also cause the glow of health in cheeks and lips.

When the blood is deficient in these red corpuscles the person not only becomes pale but the body is undernourished, the weight is usually reduced and as the nerves share in the general starvation some form of nervousness follows. When the blood is improved in quality the tissues are better nourished and all the functions of the body are better performed.

When the blood lacks red corpuscles it is a scientific fact that a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cause them to increase. This can be demonstrated by a microscopic examination and anyone can prove it by looking in a mirror, for an increase in red blood shows quickly in the cheeks and especially in the lining membranes of the eyelids.

"Building Up the Blood" is a booklet, full of useful information. Every mother and every growing girl should have one. It is sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

BIG POTATO MAN HELPING HOOVER



Lou D. Sweet.

Lou D. Sweet, a Colorado farmer, president of the Potato Association of America, is in charge of that section of the national food administration which deals with potatoes. His potato lands are situated in the irrigated district along the western slope of the Rocky Mountain system. He is said to be the most successful grower of potatoes in the world.

Our Boys and Girls

Eye-strain is the main cause of nervousness and headaches. That much most mothers know. But do they know that eye-strain is in many cases at the bottom of other troubles—stomach disorders, irritability, inability to progress in school?

The nearest child is soonest discovered. He holds his book too close to his eyes he must sit near the blackboard at school. But the far-sighted child the astigmatic child may suffer a long time before the trouble is suspected. See that the eyes receive only the best treatment.

A baby's nerves are much more delicate and sensitive in proportion to his size, than those of a grown person, and the foundation of an adult life of acute suffering is often thoughtlessly laid out for him while he is as yet too young and helpless to protect himself.

Heedless slamming of doors, boisterous talk or laughter, and, in fact, sudden or unexpected demonstrations of any sort are all disturbing to the baby's nervous system, and all produce illeffects that are more or less lasting. Many little children are rendered nervous and irritable nowadays by too great a number of diversity of toys. The fewer things a baby has to play with the better, and there should be nothing that is not of the simplest construction.

PHYSICIANS PASS ON 80 ELIGIBLES FOR DRAFT QUOTA

The road will be 40 feet wide.

Every Day Etiquette

"When you escort a girl home from a party shoulld you ask if you may come in, it not being very late, or wait for her to ask you to come in?" asked Ralph.

"When you take a girl home in the evening, she will probably ask you to come in if it is sufficiently early and if she knows that her mother is at home and that it will be convenient. If she does not invite you, there is probably some reason and it would be better not to," answered his aunt.

Nell—"Maude is a very helpful sort of girl. She will do anything for a friend." Belle—"Yes, I have known her to make a fool of a man just to save some other girl the trouble of doing it herself."

WHILE MEN FIGHT GERMANS ABROAD WOMEN WILL FIGHT FIRES AT HOME

While the men folk are in France fighting Germans it is suggested that their sisters learn the art of fire fighting at home. Photo shows a young girl fully equipped with an oxygen helmet, which enables its wearer to enter burning buildings without fear of suffocation. When the helmet is adjusted its wearer depends upon the apparatus for all fresh air and for the absorption of the respirated air.

CAR ROLLS DOWN BANK, SIX OCCUPANTS HURT

Two persons were injured seriously and four others sustained slighter hurts last night when the auto in which they were riding went over a 20-foot embankment near Pataskala. All the occupants of the car were Columbus residents.

Tony Spiertigy, aged 18, and F. C. Pirrico, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E Pirrico, suffered internal injuries. Spiertigy also received fractures of three left ribs. Mike Chempy, aged 22, and Ed Mindeimy, aged 35, Pirrico, father of the girl, and his son Vincent, aged 6, were the other occupants of the car. They sustained lacerations and contusions. Mindeimy, who was driving, lost control of the machine.

Milady's Boudoir

Care of Your Nails.

There is possibly no detail of the toilet which responds more quickly to care and attention with the least expenditure of time and money than the nails Beautifully kept nails are an evidence of innate refinement and a careful personal toilet. It matters not how exquisite the contour of the hand, or how fair the skin, when the nails display evidence of neglect.

The trimming of the nails has much to do towards the unsightly shaping often seen, and is sometimes the cause of the disfiguring white spots. The nail should be trimmed into a long oval, extending a trifle beyond the line of flesh in order to protect the finger tips.

When the nails are inclined to become brittle, soak them for several minutes in warmed almond oil, pushing back the cuticle so the oil may penetrate to the root and so nourish it.

It is sometimes necessary to use a rouge for the nails, if the blood is pale. Be careful how it is applied, as just a mite will go a long way. Ruddy nails, that is, with an artificial hue are considered vulgar.

When both hands have been completed cover each nail with powder and use the buffer, quickly polishing the surfaces, covering each roughly, especially at the base of the nail. Then wash the hands thoroughly, using a nail brush with soap.

Chicago Grain.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Aug 27.—Buying induced by low temperature in the northwest gave firmness to the early trading in corn. Opening prices ranged from ⅜ lower to ⅝ higher with December at 1.07½ to 1.08⅝ and May at 1.05 to 1.05¾ May quickly moved up to 1.06 and then with December moved within the opening range.

The close was strong and near the top. Final figures were 1c to 1½c higher, with December at 1.09 to 1.09⅛ and May at 1.06½

The wheat pit was deserted, all trading for future delivery having ceased with the final deals in the September option Saturday.

Oots were slightly higher than last week's close, moving in sympathy with corn

Provisions advanced at th estart, short coverings ending figures 12c to 25c higher at the outset. The recovery of the live hog market where there were limiter receipts than had been expected contributed also to the advance

Much Too Much.

We eat too much. We heat too much. We try too much to beat too much. We growl too much. We scowl too much. We play the midnight owl too much.

We ape too much. We gape too much and dally with red tape too much. We treat too much and cheat too much and fear to face defeat too much.

We buy too much. We lie too much and snivel and deny too much. We have too much and slave too much, with one foot in the grave too much.

We sit too much. We spit too much, wear shoes too tight to fit too much. We mess too much and dress too much, in sixteen suits or less too much.

We spite too much. We fight too much and seek the great white light too much. We read too much. We speed too much, hit dope and use the weed too much. We drink too much, We prink too much. I think we even think too much.—Oscar Schleif in Health Culture.

Scraping a Bat.

Baseball players are as superstitious as Zulus. In no way is this more lucidly illustrated than in the care which some of them lavish upon an ordinary baseball bat. Manufacturers, says the Popular Science Monthly, oil and shellac their bats to make them sleek and fresh, and the superstitious baseball player proceeds to use glass, bone, sandpaper and what not to remove the finish. Why? Oh, "just because," to give a woman's reason. He may have a notion that the bat will last longer without it. But the truth is that the shellac really acts as a preservative of the wood.

Some baseball players imagine that it is impossible to make a strong hit with a new bat, because the bat is so sleek that the balls glance off it. Others believe that scraping a bat fills up the crevices and cracks and thus lengthens the life of the bat.

Bushels In New York.

According to New York law, the bushel shall consist of seventy pounds of lime or coarse salt, sixty pounds of wheat, peas, potatoes, clover seed or beans; fifty-seven pounds of onions; fifty-six pounds of Indian corn, rye or fine salt; fifty-five pounds of flaxseed; fifty-four pounds of sweet potatoes; fifty pounds of cornmeal, rye meal or carrots; forty-eight pounds of barley or buckwheat; forty-five pounds of herdsgrass, timothy seed or rough rice; forty-four pounds of sea island cotton seed; thirty-three pounds of dried peaches; thirty-two pounds of oats; thirty pounds of upland cotton seed; twenty-five pounds of dried apples; twenty pounds of bran or shorts. For a fractional part of the bushel a like fractional part of the above weights shall be required.

Order of the Thistle.

The Order of the Thistle is a Scotch order of ancient origin. Tradition has it that it was established A. D. 787 as the result of a vision of a bright cross seen in the heavens by Achaius, king of the Scots, and Hungus, king of the Picts, while they were engaged in prayer on the night before the battle with Athelstan, king of England. So far as the records show, however, it was either re-established or founded in 1687 by James II. of England by the appointment of eight knights.

The order collapsed, but was revived by Queen Anne on Dec. 31, 1703. In 1827 it was decreed that the membership should consist of the sovereign and sixteen knights, but others of the royal family were admitted.

Two Views of the Case.

A prospective bridegroom made his first call on his future bride in company with a marriage broker, and while in the parlor waiting for the appearance of the family the broker drew the young man's attention to a glass closet containing a handsome silver set.

"Just look at these things!" he said. "You can see how wealthy these people are."

"But is it not possible that these articles were borrowed for the occasion," inquired the suspicious young man, "so as to give an appearance of wealth?"

"What an idea!" answered the agent reprovingly. "Who in the world would lend them anything?"

Always In the Lead.

The Morning Star announced the death of William B. Jones when he was not dead, writes Simeon Strunsky in the New York Evening Post. The next day it printed the following notice:

"Yesterday we were the first newspaper to publish the news of the death of William B. Jones. Today we are the first to deny the report. The Morning Star is always in the lead."

Her Excuse.

Mother—Alice, I was very much surprised and shocked last evening when I passed the parlor door and saw Mr. Woodbe with his face close to yours. Daughter — Yes, mamma; isn't it a shame? The poor fellow is so awfully nearsighted!—London Telegraph.

Just a Step.

"You may not believe it, mum, but I wunst knelt at de feet of a queen."

"And how did you fall so low as to become a tramp?"

"It wuzn't much of a fall, mum. You see, I was a super in de movies."—Exchange.

Playing off a protested game is the way ball players settle an old score.

Maj. Dockery to France.
Major and Mrs. Dockery and two children of Peking, China, arrived in the city Sunday to be guests of Mrs. Dockery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Heisey in the Granville road. They will spend a few days here before Major Dockery goes to Ft. Meyers, Va., from which place he expects to be sent to France.

May Go to France.
Capt. Verne Priest has returned home from a trip to Philadelphia and other eastern cities. It is probable that Mr. Priest will go to France and enter the American Field service there.

Hay Fever Bug Arrives.
Local hay fever sufferers were congratulating themselves that the annual sneezefest was late in arriving and hopes were entertained that it would pass up this locality altogether, but they were disappointed for the weather of the past couple of days has scattered the pollen broadcast and if you meet a person carrying a handkerchief at his nose you'll understand that he possibly is afflicted with the annual complaint

Silent Circle.
The Silent Circle of The King's Daughters will meet at the home of Mrs. Helmkee, 431 John street, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Stevens in Picture.
The father of Superintendent Donald Stevens of the B. and O. was a member of the American Mission to Russia, and yesterday's Pathe-Hearst weekly pictorial at the Auditorium theatre carried a moving picture of their arrival in this country, leaving the steamer and afterwards posing before one of the government buildings.

Back at Office.
M. Schonberg is back at his office in South Fourth street, after having almost recovered from an injury which might have cost his life. Last Tuesday Mr. Schonberg arrived home from Cleveland and was ill at the time He had occasion to visit one of the factories in the east end and while there was struck on the head by a large iron hook which fell from the top of the building, rendering him unconscious. He lost a great quantity of blood and was rushed to the City Hospital where his injuries were dressed. Had the wound been a quarter of an inch deeper his physician states it would have cost his life.

To Renew Acquaintance.
Wallace Diment of this city will go to Columbus tomorrow to watch his brother, Jay Diment's fast stepper, Piney to Order, race in the 2:35 trot for a purse of $1,000. The latter has a racing stable at Clyde, O., and the Newark candy manufacturer will also renew acquaintance with Miss Ruth Law, the famous aviatrix, who is also a resident of Clyde and whose parents operate a hotel in that city.

Assisted on Farm.
Ex-Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Horner has returned from a week's visit with his parents at the old homestead farm near Frazeysburg, where he assisted in threshing, putting up hay, etc. The well known local attorney states that his visit proved more beneficial than a long stay at any noted water resort.

Newark Story Featured.
Sunday's Cleveland Plain Dealer carried a two column feature story Sunday telling "How Newark Got Back its 'Saturday Nights'." The writed showed how co-operation between Newark business men and farmers cemented the friendly relations between town and country, how the C. of C. helped establish the farm bureau and how the merchants successfully has conducted the big community picnic three seasons.

Local Horses Entered.
A number of local race horses are entered at the state fair this week. Nelson E. Vanatta has Francis G. and Birth Mark in the 2:23 pace, Viko in the 2:18 trot, Vanburrn in the 2:09 pace and Aura Belle in the 2:16 trot. Wheat of the Brooklyns

Zack Wheat of last year's National league champions has been playing his usual fine ball for the Brooklyns, but owing to many injuries has been often out of the lineup. Zack is a hustler and plays with fine spirit when in good trim, but his vacations on the bench, owing to physical disabilities suffered on the bases, has seriously affected his work with the bat. Manager Robinson has about given up hope of a pennant this year, but hopes to make the first division. With Wheat in good shape it is not unlikely that his hopes may be realized.

In addition to hundreds of baseballs and other diamond paraphernalia already donated by the National league to different units in the United States service, the league has sponsored eight ships in the navy by giving to each one a complete baseball outfit.

Remedy For Internal Parasites of Poultry

There are perhaps new flocks of poultry which are entirely free from intestinal worms.

Worms are spread from one bird to another usually through the excreta. The worms or their eggs are expelled by one hen or one chicken and then picked up along with the food by another. Sometimes they may even be taken in with the drinking water, and some sorts, such as tapeworm, are probably acquired by the hens eating angleworms, snails and insects.

Young stock affected with worms will not grow so well and are likely to become more or less dull and depressed. Worms in large numbers will have a decided effect on the digestion and often cause diarrhea.

The most commonly recommended remedy for round worms is two grains of santonine or one ounce for each 250 birds. It is undoubtedly best to dissolve this in water and then use the solution to mix a wet mash. Another drug that is frequently used and one that may give even better results in the case of tapeworms is powdered pomegranate root bark, a teaspoonful for every fifty birds. An ounce of this would probably cost not over 10 cents and would be sufficient for probably 200 or 300.

Baby Commandments.
In an effort to reduce infant mortality New Jersey's health department has issued "ten commandments." Among them are:

Feed the baby regularly; keep the window open; place a net over the baby's crib; see that the baby takes its nap out of doors, bathe the baby every day; do not tickle the baby or trot it on your knees; put the baby to bed early; do not give the baby patent medicines.

SPIRITUAL LIFE.

We hear men often speak of seeing God in the stars and the flowers, but they will never be truly religious until they learn to know him in each other also, where he is most easily, yet most rarely, discovered.—J. R. Lowell.

God sent us a real religious life, which shall pluck blindness out of the heart and make us better fathers, mothers and children—a religious life that shall go with us where we go and make every house the house of God, every act acceptable as a prayer.—Theodore Parker.

Price Or Quality---Which? Again We Choose Quality

After having operated for fourteen and a half years, establishing the reputation of making to order the best suit or overcoat at $15, no more, no less, in America, we were obliged a year ago in order to maintain our quality, to advance our price to $17.

In the year that has since passed, wool, cotton, linen, silk and all other materials entering into men's clothes, have advanced so abnormally that these supplies cost fully double what they did two years ago.

We are, therefore, again smack up against the proposition of either reducing our standard of quality or increasing the price.

After very careful calculation, we find that by exercising the highest degree of ingenuity and efficiency in production, we will be able to maintain that standard by advancing our price only $3.

We have put this price so low that it will enable us to continue to make high class garments to order, cheaper than you can buy them ready-made.

In order to give our customers due notice of the advance, and that they may get the benefit of the materials we have on hand, we will continue operating at our present price of $17, no more, no less, up to and including Thursday, September 20th.

On and after Sept. 21st, 1917 this will be our copyrighted and patented trade-mark:

REV. J. F. PORTER IS CALLED TO PULPIT OF MAPLE AVE. C. U.

Rev. P. O. Ortt, who recently resigned his pastorate of the Maple Avenue C. U. church, leaves tomorrow with his family for his new home in Homer, Ind.

At the Sunday services he delivered his farewell sermon and a vote was taken by the congregation to extend a call to Rev. J. F. Porter of Coshocton, to assume the Newark pastorate.

Rev. Mr. Ortt gave an interesting sermon speaking on "Companionship." He based his theme on the text "Romans, 10 chapter 1 verse: Brothers my desire for Israel is that it might be delivered." Mr. Ortt spoke of love, friendship and companionship being necessary for true Christian faith and concluded with a strong appeal for all to unite with Christ.

MRS. SLATER WAS GETTING WORSE ALL THE TIME

Until Nerv-Worth Come Wonderfully to the Rescue.

Don't despair when your family doctor is unable to lift you out of the slough of ill-health. Do what Mrs. Clinton Slater, of Route 2, Beverly, O., did. Here's the way she told the story to Parker's Drug Store, Beverly, some time ago:

"I am sending my recommend of the bottle of medicine, the Nerv-Worth Family Tonic, which I can praise very highly. I had been sick for three months. Had been doctoring with the doctor for that long and his medicine didn't do me a bit of good. I was getting worse all the time. Was so bad I could not raise myself up in bed. Could not sleep or eat. But just as soon as I began taking the Nerv-Worth medicine I got so I could eat and sleep better and can get around the house better now. So I can not recommend your medicine highly enough.

"Yours truly,
"MRS CLINTON SLATER."

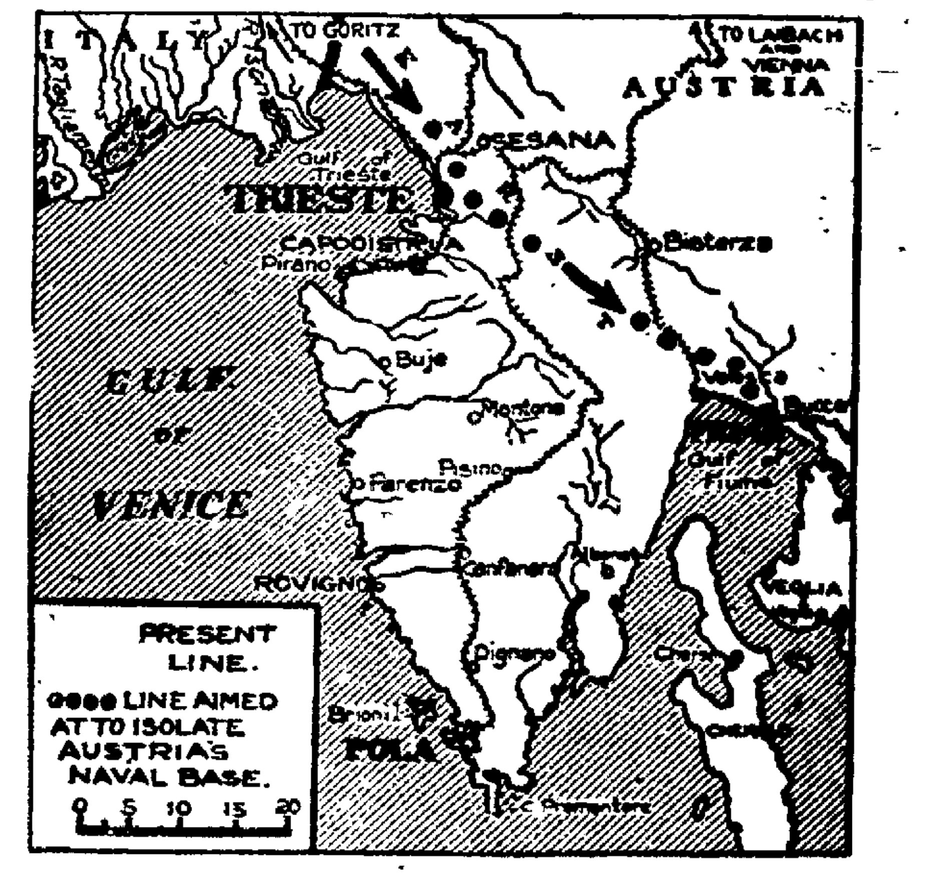
ITALIANS AIM TO DESTROY INFLUENCE OF DUAL MONARCHY IN THE ADRIATIC



Renewed activity on the Austro-Italian front has the significance of a new drive directed by the Italians against Trieste, with Fiume as a further objective. This drive, if accomplished, would isolate Austria's naval base at Pola and thus destroy the dual monarchy's influence in the Adriatic.

STATE FAIR OPENS GATES FOR WEEK; RUTH LAW FLIES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Aug 27—The Ohio State Fair opened this morning with indications of a record first day attendance. It is woman's day and they were admitted free. The exposition will last through Friday, with both day and night features.

Miss Ruth Law, the best known woman aviator in America, reached Columbus today and will give exhibitions of flying, including military manipulations each afternoon which she learned in France, and fancy exhibitions at night, when her plane is illuminated.

Exhibitors got the last of their displays in place yesterday after delaying occasioned by presence of state troops in building and on the grounds. Every department reported record breaking entries despite the fact that hundreds were barred from making entries after August 17 Crowds in Columbus for the first day indicate that predictions of state fair officials that this year's attendance will be the greatest in the history of the fair will bear fruit.

Racing, judging in all departments, inspection of displays, free entertainments, airplane flights, amusements of the character usually found at such expositions and many other features make up each day's program with some especial feature for each day. Tomorrow will be Columbus day.

YANKEE FLYER BESTS TEUTON IN AIR FIGHT

POPULAR SONGS.

There are a number of stirring war songs among the popular song offerings of the Victor September Records. "For the Freedom of the World" by Harry Macdonough and Orpheus Quartet gives emotional force to the fundamental causes of the Great World War. "Our Own Beloved Land" is a splendid patriotic song with a broad swinging refrain, effectively sung by Edward Hamilton and Victor Mixed Chorus "I May Be Gone a Long, Long Time" sung by the Shannon Four is a brisk march song with obvious bearing on present-day conditions, and George M Cohan's "Over There" makes a breezy number for the American Quartet. This organization also sings "Good-bye Broadway, Hello France," in which a strain from the Marseillaise is effectively introduced. and another catchy number," Where Do We Go From Here?"

The band went to the Abbott home in South Fourth street last evening and accompanied Mr. Abbott to the depot, a large number of friends being present to wish him good luck and goodby

GERMANY CALLS INVALIDS AND PENSIONERS TO ARMY

Copenhagen, Aug. 27.—The difficulty which Germany is experiencing in obtaining men to fill the ranks is shown by an interpellation presented in the reichstag by Deputy Davidsohn, calling attention to the practice of the military authorities in recalling to the service pensioners who have been discharged for disabilities

The interpellation says men receiving pensions for 50 per cent or more of total disability, and even cripples to whom supplementary pensions have been granted are being constantly forced into the army again, and that in some cases men are taken from hospitals before their treatment is completed.

SOLDIERS' MEDALS

The Advocate acknowledges contributions to the Licking county soldiers' and sailors medal fund from Mrs. C. L. Snider and Miss Mabel Snider.

Editor of The Advocate—I received your most welcome letter and wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to you and the people of Newark and Licking county for the interest shown in me, and for the bronze medal for which they so cheerfully contributed. It is a medal that everyone should be proud of and preserve.

So far, of all the troops who were mobilized here at the fair grounds, those from Licking county are the first to receive a token of the high honor and esteem that "the folks back home" hold them.

Again thanking you, I hope to remain, Yours respectfully,

Adam D Simmers

Camp Kark, Columbus

There is a young man here that I got acquainted with in Neawrk—a machinist by trade—who has a number of friends in and around Newark. He is not a Newark lad, but has spent about 15 or 18 months there while working at his trade, and I am sure he would appreciate a medal if you think he should be entitled to one. His address is: Ed L. Knarr, care Lieut Orr. Headquarters Company, Camp Karb, Columbus, O.

Editor of The Advocate—I seat myself in answer to the medal you sent me I am very pleased with it. It my letter is published in your paper I want to thank the kind people of my home-town and Licking county. I do not know how to thank them for it. There is no words that I can say to thank them for remembering me. I am very proud to own one of them. and there is no amount of money that anybody could offer me for it The day I received it and opend the letter. the captain of my company asked me what that medal was for I told him that it was a present to me from my home-town people and I would not take $100 for it. And he asked me to let him see it, and when he saw what it was he said he would be proud to own one of the medals himself, and he told me to wear it where ever I went, and I told him it was what I was going to do You ask me to tell you of any more of the boys of Newark that are out here There is not another Newark man in the infantry out here. I am the only one. I want to thank everyone of the good, kind people for the medal they have sent me, and also the Newark Advocate for sending it to me. I close with love and best regards to all the people of Licking county. These few lines find me well and in good health and enjoying army life. I remain Yours truly,

John W Schwoch,
Co. D, Tenth Infantry, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Editor of The Advocate—Please express to the people of Licking county my heartiest thanks for the medal which I have just received. I am highly pleased with it because, of its beauty and because it shows us that the people at home appreciate the "bit" we are doing in this great war. We will win! There is another man in camp by name of Albert B. Comstock, who formerly lived in Newark, and who went to Columbus and enlisted at the same time I did. When he enlisted he was employed at the Wehrle foundry and lived with the Armstrong family at 542 Seroco avenue. He is now in the hospital corps, and is stationed in the Sick Bay here. He has requested me to inquire of you if or not he is entitled to one of these splendid medals. His address is: Albert B. Comstock. H. A. 2 C. Sick Bay Training Camp, Navy Yard, Charleston, S C.. Yours truly,

Clarence W. Kussmaul.
S. 2 C, Training Camp, Navy Yard, Reg. 1, Co 5, Sec. 4, Charleston, S .C.

(The Advocate will be pleased to send a medal to Mr. Comstock.)

Editor of The Advocate—I received your letter and the medal last night. I wish to thank the people of Newark and Licking county for the medal which I appreciate very much. I am very proud of it since it came from old Ohio and the people of Licking county. I see the people of Newark do not forget the boys who have gone to the call of duty. I think a lot of that medal because it represents so much and certainly will keep it forever. I showed the medal to a good many of the boys here. They said that Newark must remember the boys. I told them they certainly did. Again I want to thank the people of old Licking for their kind remembrance, and my return to Newark will certainly be a glad one.

P. S—Here are some of the boys who joined about the same time I did. I don't know whether you have these names or not but will give them: Theodore Welsch, Douglas, Ariz.; Forest Wiley, somewhere in the navy, and Geo. E. Heipley, Yuma, Ariz. Yours truly,

E. Christofferson.

Editor of The Advocate—In expressing my appreciation of the medal the citizens of Licking county are sending to the men in the service of the nation, and in particular of the one I am in receipt of, I find myself at a loss to fully convey to the subscribers of the fund through you my sincere thanks.

The thing that counts most in life is the friendship of one's neighbors and the masterly way in which you have shown us, you are with us is at once an inspiration to extend ourselves to our utmost, and an eloquent expression of your confidence in us. Sincerely,

Corp. C. J. Hawkins,
11th Field Artillery, care Battery A. Douglas, Ariz.

Editor of The Advocate—I am in receipt of your letter of August 18, enclosing an engraved bronze medal, presented by the people of Licking county, showing their appreciation to the boys who have answered their country's call to the colors.

It is a neat and an appropriate medal; one which I greatly appreciate and am proud to receive, especially for what it represents and the purpose of its origin. Kindly accept my thanks and extend same to the many donors for their kindness and appreciation Sorry to say that I am the only one from Licking county on the DeKalb, therefore cannot assist you further in securing the names of others who have left.

Respectfully yours,
Rex Rettenhouser,
U. S. S. DeKalb, care Postmaster, New York City, N. Y.

Editor of The Advocate—I wish to thank you and the people of Licking county for the token of friendship which I received this morning. It surely shows that you are proud of the boys that are fighting for their cause. Although I hope my medal will never have to serve the purpose of identification, I remain

Yours truly,
Geo. Woolever,
Co. B, Military Police, Camp Karb; Columbus, O.

It's one thing to be wide awake; but quite another matter to suffer from insomnia.

The difference between work done at the average LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANING establishment, and HERE is the difference between mediocrity and Art, between the commonplace and the DISTINCTIVE, between the rule and the EXCEPTION, between laundering as it is, and laundering and Dry Cleaning as it OUGHT TO BE.
